The Department has expertise in all areas of livestock enterprises and many of the staff have veterinary medicine and agriculture backgrounds. It also enjoys good relations with departments in faculties of Agriculture and Veterinary Medicine. It is, therefore, well placed to consult in all areas of livestock production. Consultancies include:

- Establishment of : commercial animal feed factories, commercial hatcheries, commercial poultry production units, commercial dairy production units.
- Feed formulation
- feeding programmes
- livestock farm layout
- livestock housing structures
